ALL EUROPE IS SNOW BOUND AND SCOTTISH CITIES ISOLATED

EDINBURGH CAN'T BE REACHED BY TRAIN FROM LONDON

Tobogganing in the Suburbs of the British Metropolis—Floods in French Highlands

AN UNPRECEDENTED CONTINENTAL WINTER

LONDON, Dec. 28—It is many years since Central Europe generally has suffered so severely from an Arctic visitation as it has this Christmas week. From France, Belgium, Switzerland, Germany and Austria-Hungary the same tale is repeated of heavy snow storms, interruption of vehicular, telegraph and railroad communication, loss of life and general discomfort.

While Great Britain as a rule, escapes winter weather, she has suffered this year to an almost unprecedented degree. According to reports tonight from northern points, the storm is growing worse. The heavy snow storms which began several days ago, continue. They are accompanied by violent gales and even thunder storms in some places.

Railroad traffic in the northern part of Great Britain, especially in Scotland, is being completely tied up. Large towns like Edinburgh, Dundee and Perth are almost isolated. The telegraphic services are disorganized and would be completely useless but for the extension in recent years of the underground wires. The snowstorms continue with equal severity in Northern Wales and in Ireland.

None of the trains that left London Thursday over the Midland railway has reached Edinburgh, while other trains are snowbound and passengers are suffering from cold and hunger. Relief trains are being embedded in the snow and the railroad companies have issued official notices that it is impossible to guarantee traffic on scheduled time so far as Scotland is concerned. There has not yet been serious trouble in central and southern England.

In London snow continues to fall at intervals and is bringing much discomfort besides involving the authorities in heavy expenses to clear it away. Londoners who live in the suburbs are indulging in the unusual pastime of tobogganing.

In the mountain districts of France there is much suffering from the heavy fall of snow and consequent floods are reported from the highlands of Ardennes.

WRECKS STREW SHORES OF GREAT BRITAIN AND SAILORS DROWN

LONDON, Dec. 28.—A terrific gale raged on the northwest coast of Ireland today. Near Rathmullen a three masted schooner driftedd to a perilous position. A steamer went to her rescue and towed her to safety.

Nothing has been seen of a vessel that was reported foundered off the coast of Wales. The life boat was out for six hours battling with the storm. It returned at a late hour tonight. It is believed that the unknown vessel struck a rock and went down.

Several other vessels are in distress in the outer road of Holyhead, and grave fears are entertained for their safety.

All further attempts to re-float the steamer Orally, which is stranded near Dover, have been futile. A lifeboat stood by the Orally for fifty hours. The life boat men suffered severely, their clothes freezing fast to their bodies. A number of tugs went out today to stand by the Orally and a boat returned bringing news of the loss of life on the vessel.

The steamer Plymouth had a narrow escape from destruction on the reefs off Wales.

The Bark Regin struck the Goodwin Sands Christmas day. The crew took to the boats and after much hardship reached Goodwin Light.

A large steamer is reported in distress off Scarborough. The sea is so rough that it is impossible to launch a life boat.

There is very heavy weather in the Irish Sea, and great waves are breaking over the breakwaters. The Irish mail service is conducted with difficulty.

The Strike at Goldfield

GOLDFIELD, Dec. 28.—The strike is still on; the miners say the Western Federation of Miners has agreed to assist them.

Many leasers, tiring of the situation, are beginning work under the new schedule. Reports have been spread that the big operators and the Wingfield-Nixon merger are trying to induce all to shut down, pending a settlement.

WILD TURKEYS AVOID TERRIBLE TEDDY'S GUN

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va Dec. 28.—President Roosevelt's hunt today across Hardware river a dozen miles from Pine Knot, was fruitless as far as wild turkeys were concerned, the only trophies being a few birds which were encountered on the return trip. The party included the president, Surgeon General Rixey, Jos. Wilmer, Kermit Roosevelt and Lieutenant Hammer.

In Belgium drift ice is forming on the Scheldts and other large rivers and all communication with points in the Hertogen forest is at a standstill.

In Switzerland the weather is of unusual severity. The uplands already are under six feet of snow and some mountain villages are completely isolated. This state of affairs is drawing renewed attention to proposed measures to keep the Swiss passes open all the year through. Thus far the government has declined to contemplate doing this because of the heavy expense.

Austria and Hungary are also in the grasp of wintery weather. Traffic on some of the railroads in Galicia has been suspended. In Budapest snow has put an end to street travel of all kinds on wheels.

Germany reports the heaviest general snowfall in many years and railroad traffic is considerably distorted.

SIXTEEN LOST LIVES IN RAILWAY COLLISION DUE TO SNOW

DUNDEE, Scotland, Dec. 28.—In a railroad collision today caused by the heavy snowstorm, sixteen persons were killed and thirty injured.

The accident occurred near Arbroath, on the North British Railroad between Edinburgh and Aberdeen. Among the persons injured is Alexander William Black, member of the house of comrons from Banffshire.

Owing to the fall of snow, trains from London for Aberdeen were held up at Arbroath. During the afternoon the line was cleared and one train proceeded from Dundee. It had stopped at Elliott Junction and the danger signals were thought to have been set. They failed to act, however, being clogged with snow, and an express train dashed into the rear of the waiting train.

It is recalled that the Arbroath accident occured on the anniversary of Scotland's worst railroad accident. the Tay bridge disaster of 1879, and within twenty miles of the scene thereof. In that wreck, a bridge collapsed and precipitated a train with seventy persons into the river. No one escaped.

MISTAKES CHARITY FOR SWINDLER'S OPERATIONS

Dr. Hennessey and Rev. Samuel Jones of Reno placed contribution boxes in the hotels and saloons of this city, in order to give the children in the Orphan's Home at Carson a Christmas surprise. Surprise hardly expresses their feelings when told of the alleged action of the superintendent of the asylum in asking for an investigation of the purported fraud in the collections in the name of charity. The boxes were only placed a few days before Christmas, so the physician and clergyman decided to leave the boxes out until today. The collections will be gathered today and sent down with a load of presents from here.

CARSON CITY, Nev., Dec. 28.—Playing on the charitable spirit of the people of Reno, it is charged, clever swindlers placed contribution boxes in hotels and saloons of this city labeled with an appeal for the Orphan's Home Christmas tree, and the funds colected the day before Dec. 25th were never sent to the asyum or knowledge of such a collection was unauthorized. This is the sumary of a complaint which was filed at Carson yesterday by Superintendent Joe Josephs of the Orphan's Home. He asked the board of trustees of the home to investigate the matter, and lay the charge before the grand jury of Washoe county.

NEGRO TROOP ARMY'S SHAME

Another Black Soldier of Fort Reno Takes shot at Inoffensive Resident

EL RENO, Okla., Dec. 28.—Resisting an attempted hold-up in his laundry at 8:30 o'clock tonight, Lee Sung, a Chinese, was shot and dangerously wounded by an unknown negro who wore the uniform of the United States Army.

The assailant escaped.

Soldiers from Fort Reno, the sheriff's force, police force and many posses of citizens are searching for him.

The numerous outrages perpetrated by negroes, supposed to be discharged black soldiers of the twenty-fifth infantry, have aroused public sentiment to white heat and this crime but adds fuel to the flames. Summary vengeance will probably be wreaked by the citizens should the man be apprehended, unless the strongest protection is given by the troops from Fort Reno.

Lee Sung was alone in his laundry when the negro entered and pointing a pistol at him, demanded his money. The Chinese attempted to draw a revolver and the negro fired, the bullet entering Lee Sung's abdomen. It is ont known whether he will die.

The negro was dressed in the full uniform of the United States army, but it is not known whether he is a member of the negro troop now stationed at Fort Reno or one of the discharged soldiers. Some of those dismissed for participation in the Brownsville riots carried their uniforms away with them at the time of their discharge.

After wounding the Chinese, the negro ran from the laundry toward the outskirts of the town, but it is believed by the searchers that he is hiding in this vicinity.

Major Penrose, comanding officer at Fort Reno, when asked what action had been taken and whether the roll of troops at the Fort had been called, refused to discuss the case.

DIET OF SWILL ENDS IN ESCAPES' CAPTURE

Surrounding the town with guards to protect every avenue of escape, Warden Considine of the Nevada State Penitentiary last night captured, on one of the principal streets of Carson, Edward Spencer, the convict. The fellow had been hidden since Wednesday in a piano box, making nightly raids on swill barrels for food. When taken into custody, Spencer had on a pair of blue overalls and his prison shirt.

Warden Considine was told of the presence of Spencer in the town early in the evening. A cordon os guards was sent out, and the search in every secluded spot was begun. Walking down the street alone at 8:30 o'clock, Considine came on the convict. Spencer was locked in the dungeon when returned to the penitentiary.

HORRIBLE ATROCITIES OF YAQUIS IN THE LANCHO ATTACK CONFIRMED

BISBEE, Ariz., Dec. 28.—The Yaqui band that on last Saturday evening attacked and destroyed the new town of Lanche on the Cananea, Yaqui River and Pacific railway, southwest of Guaymas, Sonora, murdered ten men, women and children, fatally shot two others and took three women away captives.

The Indians retired from the town after nearly two hours of plunder, riot and arson, being frightened away by a work train from Guaymas which they doubtless mistook for a relief train. Soldiers from the fort two miles east entered the town fifteen minutes later. There is a fort and a garrison of 100 soldiers under command of Lorenzo Torres just west of the sacked town.

Lancho was a railway station with a box car for the depot and telegraph office, surrounded by tents occupied by fifty Mexican laborers and their families. The only American in the place were the railway station master, named Thompson, and his family, and two American well drillers. At the first alarm the well drillers fled to the fort and gave an alarm.

Thompson, his wife and their five-year-old boy crawled under a plank walk that lay about fifteen inches above ground between two tents in which they were living, and remaining there while the tents, not fifteen feet away, were looted and burned.

The Indians first made an attack on the store and cantina run by an Italian named Plamquinia. He made a fight, but to no purpose, being soon overpowered, and while the Indians drank mescal from his cantina and plundered the place they slowly tortured him to death.

The Italian's wife, a Mexican woman, was in a delicate condition. The Indians first ripped her open and then tortured her with fire. The sister of the woman was one of the women taken away.

The house was then burned, the bodies along with it. The station agent and his family lay under the plank walk and listened to the shrieks of the tortured.

The band of Indians has a stronghold in the mountains only a few miles to the west of the station. They had often been seen to come near the railroad and watch trains pass, but never offered any violence to Americans or American property before.

President Cassatt was a native of Pittsburg and was educated at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Albany, N. Y., and the University of Heidelberg. He entered the Pennsylvania Railway Company's service in 1861 as a rodman in the civil engineering corps and remained with the corporation in an active or advisory capacity until his death. He was regarded as foremost among railway men of the world.

RUTHLESS HANDS REMOVE PINE PLANTED BY A FATHER

Placed on Son's Last Resting Place Eight Years Ago By S. A. Hamlin

VANDAL SAWED IT OFF CLOSE TO THE SOIL

Planted eight years ago by a grief-stricken father at the foot of his son's grave and in memory of a Reno youth who died at a tender age, a pine tree, healthy and well cared for, was cut down the eve of Christmas in the Hillside cemetery, and was used for the holiday festivities in some near-by resident's home.

The pine was planted in the Grand Army of the Republic plot by S. A. Hamlin, and it gained a good size in the soil at the foot of the final resting place of the son, Fred. The father cared for that pine during those eight years. In his grief he could do nothing else for a son then dead.

When the annual Memorial day services were held S. A. Hamlin would return to the cemetery, and on the family plot he saw, year by year, the lonely pine grow to healthy size. M. I. Gallagher, who has charge of the irrigating in the cemetery last viewed the tree, December 24, and when he returned the next day the pine had been sawed off at the ground.

A trail where the limbs of the tree had dragged on the ground showed the direction taken by the ghoul. Unsuspecting children, may be, received presents from that tree, and in his heart their father knew that the good done was disproportionate to the desecration of a grave.

A son of S. A. Hamlin, John Hamlin, is librarian of Reno. The father once owned a mill near here. Notification of the ghoulish deed surprised the family, for the report of the theft had not reached them until they were told by a Journal representative.

[illegible]NSTABLE WILSON SCORED BY THE GRAND JURY

County Inquisitorial Body Suggests That Friction Exists in Relations of Peace Officers—Salaries of Auditor and Assessor Inadequate

Constable William Wilson proprietor of the Wilson hotel is scored in the report of the grand jury, and the allegation is made that friction exists among the members of the administrators of justice of Reno The recommendation is made that the proper authorities take steps to adjust the duties of the constable and police, and thus equalize the work Following is the partial report on this subject

Friction Exists

"The attention of the jury is called to the constable's office of Reno The constable's record of arrests for the year 1906 shows only sixteen arrests while the criminal docket of Judge Bell shows 158 cases heard by him besides twenty-one warrants issued for arrests which were not served owing to the inability to find the parties The startling differences in the records of the justice of the peace and the constable is susceptible to but one construction and that is that the constable has shifted his responsibilities onto the police officers and the sheriff

"Inquiry into the situation developed the fact that a disagreement existed between the several peace officers in the various departments as regards the scope of their duties, responsibilities and jurisdictions The magistarate is to a large extent handicapped, and the existing differences cause an unwarranted expense to the county, as well as a menace to the peace of the community and a delay in the administration of justice "

Salaries in County

The committee on township and municipal officers recommended that changes be made in the salaries of the county officials The stand was taken that many of the county officials receive pay totally disproportionate to the labor required of them The auditor and assessor the grand jury recommends should be given increased salaries because of the increased work during the last few years The recommendation was made that the Washoe delegation to the next legislature be instructed to ask for increased pay for the auditor and assessor As in most counties of California the grand jury recommended that District Attorney Moran be supplied with a deputy for the reason that now the duties of school superintendent now combined with the district attorney are great enough for one man

THE EASTERN MARKETS

NEW YORK Dec 28—The restraining influence of the coming January settlement asserted itself on the stock market again today A shifting of loans began early in the day which ran the call loan rate up to 18 per cent and dislodged some holdings of stocks The covering of short contracts which was effected in yesterday's rising market left that today deprived of that much demand As loans made today carry over until Monday which is the last day of the year there was a growth in the feeling of confidence that year-end would be bridged without a violent flurry in the money market

ROOM FOR SCHOOL CAN NOT BE RENTED

Trustees Planned to Have Extra Class To Relieve Crowded Condition Of Rooms But Place Not For Use—Reconsider Appointments Made

With only nine days remaining before the Reno public schools reopen after the holidays the trustees find the renting of a building for the additional class is necessarily impossible For two weeks the five members of the board in this city have tramped around among the buildings they have applied many times for a suitable room but to all the applications a refusal has been tendered them

Reno's schools are crowded to the doors Four classes in addition to the number which are now completed are necessary for the health and education of many of the students but only one class is to be established The fault lies with the inadequate funds which are ready for the purposes of learning in this city And even after the extra class was planned for and the opening of the town [illegible] place for the instruction of the huddled pupils can [illegible] be found The matter was dealt with partly at the meeting of the board of school trustees last night

Miss Celg of Virginia City was appointed to fill the remaining vacancy This instructor will be assigned to classes at the discretion of Principal Winfrey The first appointments are the result of a [illegible] which have been made [illegible] Others were Miss [illegible] promoted to take Miss Schindler's place Miss Dutcy promoted to Miss Schindler's place and Miss Slingerland of Sparks to the vacancy in the school

The second semester of the school year will commence January [illegible]
